5. EVALUATION OF EXAM RESULTS

Applicants' performances in EGEYÖS are evaluated based on the following processes and criteria.

5.1. Optical Test Grading

- 5.1.1. Answer sheet of any applicant will be double checked by the optical reader.
- 5.1.2. Correct, incorrect and blank answers of the applicants in tests will be determined separately for each subtest.
- 5.1.3. EÜ-ÖDEM Administration board decides whether a question is correct or not through analyses, investigations and expert opinions after the exam. Thus, any question considered as invalid will be omitted from the test and the test results will be evaluated and finally scored according to the number of the remaining questions.

5.2. Calculation of EGEYÖS Score

- 5.2.1. Correct and incorrect answers in Reasoning and Mathematics tests will be counted separately to calculate the YÖS score.

5.2.2. “Raw scores” for Numerical Reasoning Skills Test and Basic Mathematics Tests are obtained by subtracting one fourth of the number wrong answers from the number of correct answers. Candidates must have a raw score of 0.5 or more from at least one of the tests in order to calculate their weighted scores. Weight points will not be calculated for candidates who do not meet this condition.

5.2.3. For the Reasoning and Mathematics subtests, the average and the standard deviation of the raw scores of all candidates whose exams are valid are calculated separately, and the raw scores are converted into the Reasoning and Mathematics Standard Points (SP) for each candidate by using the following equation.

$$SP = 10 \left(\frac{X_i - \bar{X}}{S} \right) + 50$$

SP : The applicant’s standard score

X_i : Applicant’s raw score

\bar{X} : Arithmetic mean of raw scores

S : Standard Deviation of raw scores

5.2.4. A weighted score (AP) is calculated for each candidate using these standard scores. The weights of the subtests in the calculation of the weighted scores will be as follows:

Score Type	Numerical Reasoning Skills SP	Basic Mathematics SP
EGEYÖS AP	0,45	0,55

5.2.5. After the EGEYOS AP is calculated, these scores are converted into “EGEYOS Score”, the lowest 100 and the highest 500.

5.2.6. In the EGEYOS Result Document of the candidates, the number of correct-false answers, the total number of questions answered, the number of questions left blank and the EGEYOS score are given according to the Candidate's Numerical Reasoning Skills and Basic Mathematics tests.

5.2.7. Applicants’ optical forms and answer panels from the optical reader are stored by EÜ-ÖDEM for 5 years.
